

"I'm glad the rainy season is over," Farmer Picket said when summer came.
"Summer is so hot," said Mrs. Picket. "I have an idea."
She made bonnets for the chickens. She sent Farmer Picket to town to buy a flock of sunglasses.

All summer, the chickens paraded in their outfits instead of laying eggs.